Contact Hours: Each day of class is worth 6 CDPH Water Contact Hours.
Cost Per Day: Classes are $125 per day for CRWA members and $175 per day for non-members.
Instructor: These courses will be taught by Don Van Veldhuizen, USA BlueBook Technical Training Manager.

Water operators who qualify for the Expense Reimbursement Grant may list their ERG number below in lieu of payment for these courses.* For more information on this program, please contact CPS at (866) 867-3594 or www.cps.ca.gov/tlc/sws/. Please be advised that students using an ERG# who do not attend all class hours will owe CRWA a balance for their tuition.

DAY 1	Water Conservation from the Utility's Standpoint: Saving water is everyone's business. This class will help you determine the issues your system needs to address in production, maintenance and/or repairs to save water. We will review the public's role in contributing to water conservation, how to implement user-based water saving devices, and what system managers should do when water rationing is required. Leak Detection: Learn the useful and practical side of leak detection so you can keep the revenue-generating water flowing. Discussion will include leak surveys, isolating leaks, use of acoustic locators, and correlators.
DAY 2	Useful Distribution Tools and Practices: Knowing what equipment is available is half the battle, but we will also discuss how to use the equipment correctly, and share trade secrets that will ensure your ability to do your job proficiently. We will also discuss mainline flushing. Line Locating – The Basics Uncovered: Line locating is done in every system. Learn the science behind the locator and how to use that science to your benefit. This class will discuss the locator and some tricks of the trade that may assist you in those difficult locates.
